

Lazlo,

I wanted to let you know you were SO right about possibly saving us a lot of money on our kayaks. There was no “possibly” about it! We had picked out a couple of special sale kayaks at xxxxxxx and thought they’d be great for us. When we signed up for your class we were going to bring our new kayaks over but didn’t get to the store on time to buy them. We almost did it on-line to lock in their sale price. However after taking your great class and then using different kayaks from your fleet, Don and I both knew the boats we were planning on buying were horrible choices!! Too wide, too heavy, too wet and no room to grow as a paddler. Had we not taken your class we would have spent $1500 on the wrong kayaks and gear!

The fact that you don’t sell kayaks, and don’t have a vested interest in pushing one type over another is a great service to paddlers. You were right that as the class progressed and we learned more skills, it completely changed our thought process about what we needed in kayaks. I think you should highlight this on your website-not only did you save us a ton of money-we had a ball in the class! We took Mike’s advice and visited several real kayak shops and got exactly what we needed. Hope to see you for the KIS later this summer!
